

THE THAW FORTUNE

Not as Large by Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars

AS IT WAS BEFORE THE TRIAL.

Relatives May Not Care to Take Chances With Harry Which May Be Responsible for Fast That He May Not Be Able to Secure Bail.

PITTSBURG, Apr. 16.—One reason suggested today for the delay in applying for bail for Thaw is that it will be a more difficult matter than anticipated for him to furnish the large bond which is sure to be asked for him. Mrs. William Thaw's fortune, it is stated, has been seriously impaired by the heavy expenses of the trial and she cannot furnish individually the large sum sure to be demanded if bail is fixed without selling some property. Thaw's other relatives could supply money, but it is intimated they do not care to "take chances" on Harry. Behind their disinclination to favor Thaw is said to be the memory of an old family trouble in which Harry Thaw antagonized his half-brothers regarding a sale of property.

H. C. Frick has been trying for years, according to the report, to buy these lands which are constantly growing more valuable. Benjamin and Blair Thaw, Harry's half brothers, sons of William Thaw by his first marriage, wished to accept the offer. Harry Thaw, it is asserted, stood out alone when his half brothers had talked the other heirs into selling. Harry has claimed his half brothers were offered a "bonus" reaching into the millions to get consent of the other heirs to the sale.

Harry Thaw, it is known, thinks the interview given by Blair Thaw in Rome on Saturday, saying the slayer of Stanford White ought to be in an asylum, was inspired by anything but a friendly feeling for him. If Harry were declared insane, his opposition to the sale of the coke lands would not be effective.

Thaw today has recovered in a great measure from his disappointment on Friday when the jury was discharged without reaching a verdict in his case. He is still basing great hopes on being granted his freedom when his attorneys finally make the application for his release on bail.

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw went to the Tombs Sunday afternoon to see her husband. Warden Flynn told her she would have to abide by the usual prison rule and was not permitted to see her husband as she had done on previous Sundays during the 11 weeks that Thaw had been on trial.

Then, perched on a high stool at the desk in the office, she wrote a note to her husband on stationery of the department of correction and sent it up to his cell. She had to wait almost an hour for a reply. She chatted vivaciously with John Hanley, the Deputy Warden, who was at work beside her and seemed to be in the most excellent spirits. She swung to and fro on the twisting seat, her feet hanging free. In the blue dress and white linen collar and cuffs she seemed like the child she had appeared to be at times when she was testifying in behalf of her husband.

She had a little package for her husband and this was sent up after it had been examined. Growing weary of waiting for the reply to her note, she wrote a second, but the runner who went to deliver it, returned with a six page reply to her first note. She read this letter and seemed pleased with its contents.

PUBLISHERS' Press Telegram.
PITTSBURG, Apr. 16.—Mrs. C. J. Holman, mother of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, today makes public a statement, telling of her life until Harry Thaw married her daughter in Pittsburgh. Although she says she was started and left penniless by her daughter and Thaw in London, she still clings to a love for the daughter, which would impel her to go to her at the slightest call and to throw open her Pittsburgh home gladly to receive her. She says Evelyn never told her what she confessed on the witness stand of her relations with

INJUSTICE

TO THE COUNTY DETECTIVE.

The Uniontown Herald seems to think that the County Detective is personally responsible for the "carnival of crime" it has depicted in its peculiarly vivid manner in its personally-conducted pennyraze.

The County Detective stands alone. He is not a standing army, patrolling the coke plants of the Klondyke country. It is the business of the local authorities, so far as they are able, to protect; it is the duty of the County Detective, to the best of his ability, to detect.

We agree with The Herald that the Klondyke lawlessness should be suppressed, but to effectually do so it seems to us that the County Detective will have to be provided with a standing army of constables, policemen, or detectives in order to guard against these outbreaks. He certainly cannot do the work single-handed; and, so far as we are informed, the law does not give him any authority for employing additional men.

The Herald suggests the militia, but the militia cannot be called out until the civil power is exhausted. The State Constabulary would be a more reasonable proposition. Their quarters should be moved over into the disturbed Klondyke country until it is measurably pacified.

In the meantime, The Herald should try to understand that true independence consists chiefly in being honest and fair, even in politics.

The Connelleville hospital always gets the full amount of the appropriation it asks for simply because it never asks for a cent more than it really needs. The practice with many institutions of this character, particularly the larger ones, is to ask for more and expect less. It's a poor practice.

Somerset county's insane Italian who murdered a fellow-countryman for his money was not without method in his madness.

Scottdale is a growing town. Its City Fathers are the real thing. "Faith without works is dead." Scottdale is far from being a dead one.

Perhaps Big Bill's boom has caused the equatorial earthquake.

The trial of Adam Smiley for the killing of Robert Larkin will throw some light on the warrant of a policeman to shoot an escaping prisoner. The law is jealous of its rights. It permits the shooting of a robber, but forbids the shooting of a ransomer. Its attitude in the case of a policeman will be interesting.

Colonel Barnett's retirement from the Tenth regiment will be a source of sincere regret to the members and to his many friends outside the ranks.

The trolley freight bill is up to Governor Stuart, and it's perfectly safe there.

South Pittsburg street lots are getting smaller and smaller, and the business rooms more and more like box-stalls.

The Thaw family, the Thaw lawyers and the Thaw jury have disagreed. No wonder it was a miscarriage.

Burgess Solson is trying to suppress the paper filler nuisance. He needs the assistance of the Women's Culture Club and their stroat receptacles for waste paper.

Smiling Spring and Blustering Baseball are calling Whiskers Winter all the naughty names they can think of.

Since German township has developed other things besides corn and cattle and cantankerous Democrats, she is well up in the millionaire class.

Pittsburg street real estate is now dwindling in value. This is a going town.

Coke operators should be satisfied with Fayette county coal valuations.

The Legislature is putting up to the Governor a good many embarrassing things in addition to the State Capitol job.

The Fayette county Socialists are playing the early worm act.

The coke region is not without its Car of Juggernaut. The victims are unwilling, but they are sacrificed nevertheless. Fate not fanaticism so deceives.

Pennsylvania has at last recognized the importance of the public health, and the necessity of forest reservation and unpolluted streams is beginning to dawn upon the benighted minds of the lawmakers.

We have had so much Thaw that the printers are capitalizing that kind of weather.

The Slovak-Magyar war will be carried into Uniontown. It may have to join forces there to resist the Sabbath Observance Army.

MRS. ADELINE HUGUS.

Former Resident of New Haven Died This Morning.

Mrs. Adeline Hugus, a former resident of New Haven, died at the home of her son, George H. Hugus, of Scottdale, at 3 o'clock this morning, aged 79 years. Up until three years ago Mrs. Hugus made her home in New Haven but removed to Scottdale to reside with her son. She was a daughter of the late James Robinson, well known all over Fayette county. The deceased was a life-long member of the Baptist Church and is known by all the older members in this neighborhood. Her husband died 18 years ago.

The following children survive her: Mrs. Abe Stouffer and Mrs. Minnie Campbell, New Haven; George H. Hugus, a P. R. R. engineer, Scottdale, and Mrs. Mattie Stents of Pittsburg. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of her son at Scottdale.

POST CARD RULE.

Need Not Be Called Such and a Message May Be Written on Both Sides.

Notice was received today by the local postoffice authorities that the postal laws governing the mailing of "Post Cards" had been amended. Under the old law it was compulsory to have the words "Post Card" printed on the face near the top; under the new ruling it is left to the opinion of the sender.

Formerly a written message on the face required first class postage, or 2c, but in the future a message may be written on the face of the card, with but 1c in postage added. Advertisements and illustrations may appear on the left half of the face, as well as the back. These rulings will afford considerable relief to the clerical force, as heretofore all who took advantage of writing on the face of a card and affixing but 1c in postage, necessitated the dispatching of a card notice to the addressee, and the affixing of due stamps and collection of same, on all such cards received.

HYNDMAN, Pa., Apr. 15.—After running to and witnessing the burning of the Juniata Lumber Company's planing mill at this place early this morning, H. A. Varner, aged 30 years, a prominent lumber dealer of Somerset, sunk to the ground and died a half hour later without uttering a word. A local physician, assisted by a nurse, made heroic efforts to restore the stricken man, but in vain. Heart failure is attributed as the cause of death. The deceased was connected with the Somerset Lumber Company and is survived by a wife and two children residing at Somerset.

Porter of East Green street, were quietly married in Pittsburg Monday evening by Rev. W. R. Warren, former pastor of the local Christian church, but now engaged in special work for the denomination. The announcement of the marriage came as a great surprise to their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Porter are well known socially. The bride formerly taught in the Connelleville public schools and up until Friday night taught at Dunbar.

DUNN'S CASH STORES.

129, 131, 133 N. Pittsburg St. Connelleville, Pa.

THE WEATHER.

Snow or rain Tuesday and probably Wednesday; colder Wednesday; brisk south shifting to northwest winds.

Your Trade

We want a share of it. Just as much as this store deserves because of the goods we have here and the prices at which they are marked. If this store can not serve you better than you can be served elsewhere it would have no right to expect you to consider it your home store. If serving you better, we do not mean giving you occasional bargains that may seem wonderful because of their rareness, but doing better by you by day in and day out selling. By selling you dependable goods at reasonable prices. That's our reason for expecting a share of your trade, and we ask you to come and investigate and find out for yourself whether this store deserves a share of your trade and if so how much of a share.

Dress Trimmings.

You can spend as much as you like for the material, you can pay as much as you like for the making and unless you have the right kind of trimming your dress will not be the success that you wish it to be. Most stores pay very little attention to this stock. Consider it one that pays very little profit. If you will notice the room that we give it here and the stock we carry you will know how much attention we give this stock. The best advertisement this stock could have, is the amount of trimmings that we sell to match dress goods bought elsewhere than at this store. You know about this even if you have been buying your materials elsewhere. If you wanted exactly the right kind of trimmings you had to come to this store for them. This store does give attention and lots of it towards having exactly the right things in dress trimmings.

Under Muslins.

Muslins and all cotton goods have advanced, are still advancing in price. During the last week we have received a shipment of these made from muslins that were bought at the old prices. It means buying these garments at about cost of the material and no charge for the making, and they are made as you would have them made. This lot comprises gowns at 75 cents, $1.00 and $1.25. Skirts at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00, and drawers at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00 the pair. About 2,000 garments in the lot. Well made and daintily trimmed with lace and embroidery.

In the Carpet Room.

In spite of the advanced in the cost of woolen yarns we quote you nearly every grade of carpet at same price as last year. This means a saving to you, and this means to us that at the advanced cost, we must sell more carpets than ever before in order to make up for it. We expect and are ready to properly care for an increased business in this department. The record of the carpets we have sold in the years past will help to ward this increased business. The assortment of patterns and prices will also help. If you have a carpet thought you owe it to your pocket-book to pay this carpet room a visit.

Thus far the supporters of the bill have failed to present any argument that there is any necessity for restricting the number of miners in Pennsylvania. The operators claim that one of the most serious difficulties of their business is to find a sufficient number of men to keep their mines going. On the other hand it is argued that the passage of this bill would paralyze the industry, or at least would seriously injure it.

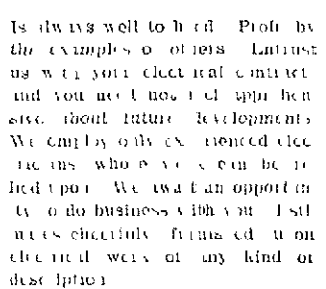

SOVERSEET Apr. 15.—It is stated by reliable persons that Joe De Financesco an Italian in jail here under sentence of death for the murder of a fellow countryman Tony DeLincio, near Meyersdale on the fourth of last October is insane the mental affection having manifested itself within the past ten days. Recently the counsel for De Financesco have received papers and certificates from Italy among which is a certificate from an institution for the insane which states that this condemned murderer was under the care of this institution for about a year prior to his coming to America. An application for a new trial has been refused by the court here and it is not known what will be done by the counsel at having received these papers. De Financesco's sentence was sent a Governor Stuart several months ago and he was to have been executed on the day of the death sentence for which Governor Stuart was asked to set a date. It will be remembered that on October 4 last the body of Tony DeLincio was found lying on a path through the woods which he ordinarily took when returning from the coal mine.

where he was employed on the night shift to his boarding house. The head of the body bore a deep rash which was lacerated and was infiltrated with wax and about $500 notes which the deceased was known to carry sewed into the lining of his clothing was missing. Officers at once went to the boarding house where the deceased the present car lived and there in a paper bag they discovered the dead body. It was found to be his property was found the missing money part of it being wrapped in a paper envelope of the deceased. The defendant admitted to be the owner of the money and after considering several circumstances which seemed to confirm the man's guilt he was arrested. Officer in jail tried at the December term of criminal court and found guilty of murder in the second degree. Sent to the penitentiary a week later. The criminal has been in jail here for seven months and it is stated that the prolonged confinement has affected his mind.

THE COUNCIL SMOKED

Soon All Twelve Members at Scottdale Will Be Married Men.

HELD AN ADJOURNED MEETING.

Sewer Plans Submitted, Firemen's Officers Confirmed, Municipal Liens Stricken Off, and Council Expects Soon to Hold Meetings On Second Floor—Other Notes.

SCOTSDALE, Apr. 16.—The members of Scottsdale Council smoked fine cigars as they deliberated in the regular adjourned meeting held Monday evening. The reason was that at the next meeting of the dozen men who compose that body not one will be a single man. The last to join the solid phalanx of Benedicts is James C. Horne, a member from the Fourth Ward, who will be wed tomorrow at Canonsburg to Miss Sarah Loretto Mooney, a charming young woman who was assistant postmaster at Everson for some time. Mr. Horne was not present at the meeting last night, but he had the best wishes of many friends.

There was a good miscellaneous business transacted. A resolution was passed agreeing to the petition of
W. E. Stauffer, J. L. Dick and H. J.
Springer to pave a part of Hickory street at their own expense, if the borough will grade the street for them.
Also an ordinance was passed which gives authority to the Burgess to impose a fine of not less than $2 nor more than $25 upon anyone who may resist or interfere with an officer.
There are some folks about town who will get salty doses if they don't look out.

Borough Engineer J. B. Horne was present and reported progress on the plans for the Anderson run sewer and the Pine Tree people feel that at last they are in way for the sanitary privileges they have long sought. It is likely that the official advertising for bids for the construction of the sewer will be published on Friday.
Meantime any contractors may see the plans by visiting Mr. Horne. Of the sewer 1,550 feet will be 36 inches in size, and the balance varying degrees down to 15 inches.

The recent election of Roy Baker and John Mulhorn as Chief and Assistant Chief of the Volunteer Fire Department was confirmed by Council and they were officially notified of the confirmation today.

The Committee on fixing up the borough building for Council and borough officials reported progress. They will likely recommend, as the members have expressed themselves for some time in that line, the assembling in the room upstairs now used by the G. A. R. band, and which will not interfere with the band, except that it can't meet the same night Council does. Several times while Council has been meeting in the room below
they have had to send upstairs a request that some enthusiastic musicians quit blasting on a horn, or ter-turing shrill complaint from a piccolo.

Orders were given for the satisfaction of municipal liens for street paving against S. B. McMillan, John G.
Tedrow and Nicolas Viglione. They have all paid their street paving in full, and settled with the attorneys.
The matter of the G. L. Lockard claim was referred to the Finance Committee for consideration.

The fire department has been needing a new house carriage for some time, the one in the Second Ward house having outlived its usefulness.
A Pittsburg man was here last night
wanting to sell a fourwheeler and it may be bought.

The Councilmen present were D. C.
Baker, A. S. Collins, L. R. Elcher, H.
E. Ellis, H. G. Marx, P. J. O'Connor,
T. W. Porter, O. S. Weaver and President A. P. Byrne.

Harry R. Laughrey, J. O. Landen-
berger, Walter Seaton and Ross Diold left early this morning for Confluence, from which place they will go out for a couple of days' sport with the trout.

Tax Collector S. B. McMillan had a thrilling experience with a rat that has long inhabited the borough look-up, and has scared individuals overburdened with rum badly until they discovered that the rat was real. On Monday there was a general house
cleaning done to the lookup and Mr.
McMillan, who has an adjoining office, thought it would be a propitious time to dispense with the rat. He got a small rifle and a piece of bread.
He laid the bread on the floor and got back to await the coming of the rat. That bold, bad black beast came out like a shot, circled, grabbed the bread and was gone before the Tax Collector could shoot. The Board of Strategy held a meeting immediately and after a long search another piece of bread was found and this time it was nailed down. The rat came out the bread was fast, the rifle cracked and the bold, bad rat bit the dust.

Tickets have been going very lively
for the production of "The Rose Maiden" at the Geyer Opera House
this evening by the Philharmonic Society. This local event is drawing a big crowd.

P. J. O'Connor is a traveller these days, scouring the county in his carrass for the Democratic nomination for Director of the House for the District of Westmoreland county.

David J. Berry, the Heart of Payette and Westmoreland county journalism, was in town on Monday afternoon looking for a place where he will start a daily newspaper in Scott-dale.
